Interoperability discussions for AI – Update

The Data Science Institute (DSI) at the American College of Radiology (ACR), works with artificial intelligence in medical imaging, and how to facilitate ongoing developments. A critical aspect of this is how to get the informational and imaging data for a number of purposes, including for training, as well as operationally (for visualization, driving workflow, and for generating reports). As such, the technologies of HL7 FHIR and DICOMweb will be increasingly critical, and these interoperable standards must be empowered to enable this communication. ACR/DSI is looking for input and for vendors who want to participate directly with the standards bodies such as HL7, DICOM, NEMA, and IHE to move the existing standards forward to better support patients in the adoption of modern AI.

Since there had been expressed a lot of interested in Interoperability discussions for AI essentially, identifying use cases for various AI scenarios, and ensuring that from an interoperability perspective, an informal meetup was organized at CIMMI on September 10th.

Meeting at CIMMI: The meeting on Sept. 10th was very productive (FYI over 60 participants).

Present participants uncovered a lot of interesting issues that needed to be addressed. The minutes will be distributed to participants soon.

Conclusion/Outcome: DICOM WG-23 will be taking primary responsibility for AI integration efforts within DICOM. WG-20 will support that effort where needed, and in particular, to integrate with FHIR. Calls on the topic will be scheduled by WG-23 and announced on their mailing list, and not primarily on WG-20's list. If you have an interest in following the work, please make sure you have signed up to the DICOM WG-23 mailing list. Contact DICOM Secretariat Office dicom@dicomstandard.org

Tuesday, October 2, 2018; Q3 – 1:45-3:00 p.m. US ET

Nicholas Polyas and Anita Havele, Web3D Consortium stopped by and discussed potential uses of the X3D standard within HL7. Various aspects of Polyas' keynote presentation were reviewed. Boundaries between HL7 and DICOM use cases were discussed. We agreed to continue discussion, and to schedule a session 3-4 times per year to discuss coordination between HL7, DICOM, and Web3D.

Argonaut Diagnostic Report for Imaging

- It's going to go for ballot this fall/winter.
- Brett Marquard (brett@waveoneassociates.com) is leading the initiative. Most of their members are from vendors actively implementing the specification; however, he indicated a small number of II/WG-20 members are welcome to join the calls.

<https://github.com/argonautproject/clinicalnotes>, with the profile of DiagnosticReport at <https://argonautproject.github.io/clinicalnotes/StructureDefinition-argo-diagnosticreport.html>. This is expected to eventually feed into the US core profile for FHIR R4:

<https://github.com/hl7/US-Core-R4>

The following concern have been expressed during the meeting on behalf of WG-20 II by Co-Chair of WG-20 II, Elliot Silver, Change Healthcare:

- "They are currently profiling FHIR DiagnosticReport for Radiology, Lab, and Pathology uses under their Clinical Notes work item. Imaging Integration has not yet had an opportunity to consider how DiagnosticReport might be used in a Radiology, Cardiology, or general Enterprise Imaging context. My concern is that the Argonaut work will form the basis of the US Core profiling of R4. Given the dominance of the US market, US Core profiling then threatens to become the de facto international profiling of DiagnosticReport. As a result, when Imaging Integration does decide to focus on DiagnosticReport profiling, we will be constrained to profile consistent with Argonaut work. I am not specifically concerned that the Argonaut profiling is headed in a bad direction or is otherwise "wrong"; my concern is that they are going ahead with profiling a resource without engaging the relevant clinical work group. (In this case the "relevant" work group is separate from the work group that owns the resource.) I suspect that O&O (who now cover Lab and Pathology clinical areas) may also want some involvement".

The Joint Meeting with DICOM WG-27 Web Technology for DICOM (Q1-Q4). Please refer to WG-27 minutes for the summary from this meeting. They have been posted on the DICOM website: <http://dicom.nema.org/Dicom/minutes/WG-27/2018/>
