<http://build.fhir.org/observation.html>

After group discussion of the implications of the general issue and the effects on our current use cases, a motion was made to communicate to O & O that the proposed content of DeviceDescription and Device (or DeviceInstance if that name is chosen) are acceptable if provisions are made to continue to make it possible to continue to use Device without requiring a corresponding DeviceDescription when that meets the needs of the use case. Moved by Reinhold, seconded by Faughn, adopted with 7 in favor, none against, no abstentions.
